PRICE TWO CENTS

REGULAR SESSION HELD BY COUNCIL

Several Questions Relative to New Street Improvements Are Discussed in Detail.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE AT PARK

Ordinance Passed Providing For manner in Which Heavy Machines May Travel Over New Streets.

Questions relative to the new street improvement occupied the major part of the time of the regular meeting of the city council last night, reports having been filed by the city engineer on the improvements of the alley at the rear of the interurban station and on Jeffersonville Avenue and also by A. V. Lawell, who was appointed inspector of the work being done on south Walnut street.

All the councilmen and Mayor Swope were present and during the meeting the members indulged in several spirited discussions and controversies.

After the preliminary work was disposed of the accounts and claims were read and all were allowed with the exception of two bills presented by Ewing Shields for work done on Jeffersonville Avenue and another for removing a tree on south Walnut street. The claims presented for the Jeffersonville Avenue improvement were objected to by several of the councilmen upon the grounds that the work for which the bills were presented was a part of the original contract and the city was not liable for any bill other than the original agreement. After some discussion among the members the bills were referred to the Board of Public Works.

Councilman Hodapp presented a resolution for a new local sewer on Fourth street and the matter was referred to the Board of Public Works. The report of city engineer of the permanent assessment roll for the alley between Indianapolis Avenue and Ewing street at the rear of the interurban station was accepted and the clerk was instructed to advertise the assessment roll as presented by the engineer.

Councilman Misch introduced an ordinance prohibiting traction engines or other heavy machinery to run upon the improved streets of the city unless a permit was first obtained from the city engineer and heavy planks be laid to protect the street. The ordinance provides any person violating the ordinance shall be fined in any sum not to exceed $100.00 and shall also be liable for any damage done to the street.

The assessment roll for the improvement on Jeffersonville Avenue from Tipton to South streets was read and approved.

Upon the motion of W. R. Day, concrete curb and gutter was ordered on Oak street from Poplar to Walnut streets. His motion provided that the work be done within thirty days.

Councilman Sherman Day stated that there was some objection to a certain lot of brick, which had been unloaded on south Chestnut street for the new improvement and as there were quite a number of the property owners on that street present, an in-

REPUBLICANS TO ELECT DELEGATES TO-MORROW

Convention Will Be Held in Seymour at 7 O'clock and in Other Townships at 2 o'clock.

The Republicans of Jackson county will meet tomorrow in pursuance to the call of County Chairman George Peter and elect delegates to the state convention and also the district convention. The latter will be held at Greensburg on Monday and the state convention will be held at Indianapolis on the following day.

The conventions in all of the townships but Jackson will be held at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at the places designated in the call which may be found in another column. The convention in Jackson township will be held at the city building at 7 o'clock and will be called to order by Township Chairman J. H. Andrews. All the Republicans in the township are asked to attend the convention.

MANY EMPTY BEER BOTTLES ARE FOUND ON PUBLIC ROADS

When Broken Small Pieces of Glass Are Dangerous to Horses and Automobiles.

Many complaints have been made recently of the large number of empty beer bottles which are found upon the streets and country roads. From all appearances the purchasers buy several bottles and the booze is consumed while riding and driving and thoughtlessly the bottles are thrown into the road.

The bottles do not remain in the road very long until they are broken by passing vehicles and sharp pieces of glass may be found on almost any road. The glass is dangerous to horses and it has been reported that the feet of several animals have been severely cut by the discarded bottles. Automobile tires are also frequently punctured and cut by the small pieces of glass which are covered by the dust many times and cannot be seen. Much of the trouble would be saved if the bottles were tossed to the side of the road instead of the center.

B. & O. S-W. PASSENGER TRAIN IN WRECK NEAR ST. LOUIS

Train No. 4 Delayed Three Hours by Accident Early This Morning.

B. & O. S-W. passenger train No. 4 due here at 9:08 o'clock was delayed three hours this morning by a wreck near St. Louis.

Just after the train left St. Louis it ran into a freight train, derailing several of the cars on the freight and doing considerable damage to the baggage coach on the passenger train. The engineer and fireman escaped injury and none of the passengers was hurt. The train continued the trip to Washington without a baggage car.

CITY COUNCIL INSPECTED BRICK ON SOUTH WALNUT.

No Definite Action Taken, But Several Members Say They Come Up To the Sample.

The members of the council accompanied by the city engineer this morning inspected the lot of brick on south Walnut street to which the objection was filed, but failed to come to any definite decision regarding them. However, it was informally agreed upon the suggestion of Councilman Buse that none of the brick be used in front of any property where the owner objected to them, and if the contractor desired to lay the brick in front of any residence after a complaint was made that the blocks be given a test in order to find out if they come up to the standard of the sample.

Contractor Ewing Shields stated that he was not only willing but anxious to have the test made and would pay for such tests. He also gave the council the privilege of selecting any bricks they might choose for the test.

Several of the councilmen who examined the blocks, say that in their opinion they are as good as the sample, although the corners upon many of them have been chipped off in handling.

There has been considerable discussion regarding the brick and A. V. Lawell, who was appointed inspector, rejected them as soon as they arrived in the city. A number of the property owners are also opposed to using the blocks in the street, and attended the council meeting last night. Several brick masons and others who claim to know something about paving brick, have declared that the blocks are in good condition and are as equally good as the sample furnished.

Nearly everybody is interested in bargains now; why not join the crowds that are rushing to Bush's for Shoes. Saturday is children's day and you should get your share of the bargains.

JUDGE SHEA RETURNS HOME FROM MONTH'S TRIP IN EAST

Held an Hour Conference With Woodrow Wilson At Seagirt While Away.

Judge Joseph H. Shea returned home Thursday evening from a month's business and pleasure trip in the East. After looking after his business affairs in New York City he went to Allenhurst, N. J. where he was the guest at the summer home of M. F. Faily, of Terre Haute. He says that his trip was most delightful and pleasant in every respect and feels much rested upon his return here.

Allenhurst is near Seagirt, the home of Woodrow Wilson, democratic candidate for president, Judge Shea in company with several other democratic politicians from Indiana visited Candidate Wilson at his home and spent almost an hour in conference with him. He said that Mr. Wilson was a very agreeable man to meet personally and was a convincing conversationalist.

Work Stopped.

The B. & O. Railroad Co., bumped up against an injunction last Saturday and the work of building the tracks through the cut was stopped until the difference between the Lumber Co. and the railroad company are settled. The complaint was made that the railroad company was about to enter on the land owned by the Lumber Co., without just compensation and in order to get a hearing Judge Thompson granted a restraining order.

No sooner had this been done however than the railroad company began condemnation proceedings.—North Vernon Sun.

CITY ORDINANCE PROVIDES HOW GARBAGE SHALL BE KEPT

Many of the Complaints Made Are Reported to be Without Good Cause.

During the past few weeks the board of health and the city council have heard a number of complaints from various parts of the city regarding the removal of garbage. It is stated that these complaints have been investigated and the officials have found that in nearly every case the failure to remove the garbage was due to the manner in which the garbage was kept. The city ordinance provides just how this shall be kept and the collector is instructed to follow the ordinance.

The ordinance provides that it shall be unlawful for any person to place in any garbage receptacle any ashes, stones, brick, broken glass, broken dishes, broken crockery, tin cans, bottles, paper, shavings, straw, leather, or any combustible or non-combustible substances and that all persons are forbidden to place in such garbage receptacles any soap suds, scrub water or poisonous fluids or substances.

The ordinance also provides that garbage shall be deposited in water tight retainers and that such receptacles shall be placed on the lot or premises by the owner at a place where they will be easily accessible to the gatherer.

The Indiana state board of health has issued a booklet on the "Care of the Baby in Hot Weather." This booklet will be sent free to any mother or to any one interested for the asking. During the past ten years an average of 1,800 infants under two years of age have died each year from diarrhoeal diseases in Indiana. In other words, 1,800 babies under two years, sacrificed on account of ignorance and neglect. At least 90 per cent. of these deaths could have been prevented by observing the simple rules of hygiene in the care of babies. The booklet tells how.

STRIKE MAY TIE UP CHICAGO TRAFFIC

Fourteen Thousand Employees of Street Railway System Demand Higher Wages.

RESULT KNOWN SATURDAY

Negotiations Have Been on Since June 1, and Vote Will be Completed Saturday.

Chicago, August 2.—Voting on a strike of fourteen thousand employees of Chicago surface and elevated electric lines began today. At the headquarters of the Amalgamated Association of Electric and Street Railway Employees W. D. Mahon, international president, announced that the first voting was heavy and overwhelming in favor of ordering the strike.

Officials of the surface and elevated railroads admitted the situation is grave and a complete tieup of all city transportation lines is feared. The vote will be announced tomorrow.

A joint agreement between the surface and elevated employees has been in effect several years. A committee of union men, headed by Edward Morrow, a member of the international executive board, will meet with the railway operators in a final effort to adjust the wage scale and avoid the strike.

Negotiations have been on since June 1. The present agreement expired yesterday and the union officials are waiting for a final answer before calling the strike. The high cost of living in Chicago was given as the principal reason for asking an increase in wages.

The men contend their average wage is less than $800 a year, whereas the cost of living for an average family is $1,200 a year.

The threatened strike involves 3,900 men on the south side surface lines, 6,700 men on the north and west side surface lines and 2,700 men on the elevated lines.

To The Public.

By order of the City Council, all property owners will cut the weeds about their premises and trim their shade trees at least nine feet from the ground, within five days from this notice.

A MORNING PRAYER.

Give me morning courage—the courage that fronts my day of toil with zeal and cheerfulness.

Throughout this day of task and anxious thought let me go, each hour a smile upon my lips and hope within my heart, so that at eventide I may look back upon a day of honest effort worthily essayed. And, whether I shall succeed or fail, bring me to look forward to another day when I shall try again.

And—Should I make a new friend today may I be worthy of his friendship, and the worthy friends I have may I hold fast.

Help me that I may keep the open vision of the perfect life, that I may pattern my imperfect life thereby. Let me hold high and far advanced the banner of my manhood.

Let not fear have dominion over me. And may all hatred and all envy depart far from me. Help me to be of good cheer and generous and frank and seemly.

May I live today, because there may be no tomorrow. Let me give today, because tomorrow I may not have wherewith to give. Let me love today, for tomorrow my loved one may have gone away.

And I pray—This day let me share whatever of good may come to me with those who make their stormy pass of human life along with me. And if sorrow shall come to me may I find my fellow travelers to the bar full of sympathy and helpfulness.

And, above all else, I pray—May I be this day, and every day, an optimist, going cheerfully forward with faith and zest, so that some sorrowing soul, seeing my shining face, may take hope and heart again.

And these things I pray—That I may not forget and that I may do that which I ought to do and leave undone that which I ought not to do.

And bring me to the end of this good day and all my days without fear and without reproach, honest and undefiled and satisfied.

This is my prayer.
Amen.

SLEEPING IN CHURCH.

It is a matter of common experience that bright lights in a chamber, church or hall where numerous persons are gathered together have the effect of producing drowsiness among certain members of the congregation or audience, says the Philadelphia Press. This phenomenon is easily explained by the current knowledge of hypnotism. The drowsiness produced by the lights is a species of hypnosis. It has been suggested also that lack of proper ventilation causes a toxic quality in the atmosphere to which some people are especially susceptible, the result being an irresistible drowsiness. Sleeping in church has always been a ready subject for humor. It is related that on one occasion when a proposal was under discussion to have a series of sermons preached on topics of the day which were agitating the public mind, Rufus Choate, as a member of the congregation, protested vehemently, saying, "I seek my pew, as I seek my bed, for repose." There is also an anecdote of an old Scotchman who was asked if he knew a certain man in the same neighborhood. "Know him?" he replied with emphasis. "Why, I've slept in the same kirk wi' him for forty year." But the majority of preachers have never been inclined to take a humorous view of the matter, any more than Dean Swift.

REGULAR SESSION
HELD BY COUNCIL

vitation was given to explain the situation. Several of the property owners interested stated that the brick was not satisfactory in their opinion and they did not believe that the council should permit it to be used. A. V. Lawell, who was appointed inspector for the street, was called upon and stated that he had been appointed inspector and as such had rejected the brick before they were delivered because he did not believe that they were equal to the sample furnished by the contractor. He stated that he was of the opinion that the material used in the brick was not the proper kind. He further stated that he had been appointed inspector and had once before made an objection to the council regarding the brick, but that he understood that they were to be used and if this was the case he did not think it necessary to have an inspector. He said that the street belonged to the public but the property owners had to pay for any improvement made and for that reason were interested in the work and desired that the best material be used. He said that the people on south Walnut street were only asking that the plans and specifications be followed.

W. R. Day stated that he had made some inquiry about the brick to which the objection was filed and that although a number of brick masons had stated that the lot of brick was as good, if not better, than the sample he was in favor of rejecting them if the property owners so desired. After considerable discussion it was decided that the councilmen should inspect the brick this morning at 8 o'clock.

Upon the motion of Sherman Day the city engineer was instructed to make a survey of the B. & O. S.W. crossing on Walnut street.

Neal & Amig were given the privilege of placing an electric sign in front of their shop.

Councilman Hodapp reported that the concrete foundations for the canons in the city park had been completed at the cost of $35. The Chief of Police was given instructions to notify all property owners to order the removal of the lower branches of shade trees where they interfered with the travel upon the sidewalk.

Upon motion of Councilman Davison, DeGolyer & Co. was issued a certificate for $775 which was the balance of sixty-five per cent. of the total amount due upon the contract. The contractors were given a certificate for $4,000 at the last meeting. The law provides that the contractors of such an improvement can receive sixty-five per cent. of the total amount upon the report of the city engineer before the entire street is accepted by the council.

The street commissioner was instructed to grade Mill street between Third and Fourth streets.

George Slagle, who was appointed inspector for Ewing street, resigned the position and John A. Goodale and Fred Vondelingen were appointed inspectors.

The G. A. R. was granted the privilege of using the council chamber the first and third Friday of each month for lodge purposes.

The report of the city engineer regarding the alley running from Walnut to Poplar between Bruce and Brown streets was accepted.

W. R. Day stated that the secretary of the board of health had reported that a number of people had complained of the manner in which the garbage had been removed, but that they had failed to follow the instructions of the council. It was decided to supply the garbage collector with copies of the ordinance and when complaints are made he will hand one of these bills to the person making the complaint.

The bid of Harry Marberry was the only one received in reply to the notice for bids and his figures were referred to the Board of Public Works.

Sunday School Lesson

Lesson V. August 4.
WORTH OF THE KINGDOM. Matt. 13:44-53

GOLDEN TEXT.—Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you.—Matt. 6:33.

It was after He sent the multitudes away and went into the house that He explained to the disciples the parables and spoke these others of today's lesson. It has been said that a parable is like a nut that has to be broken to get the meat—it keeps the meat from the shell and for the diligent. It is also true that there are outside truths for the world that they may receive if they will enter in, and there are truths only for those who are within. The parables of the hidden treasure and the pearl give us wholly another view of what is going on in this present age and of its consummation in spite of all the work of the adversary. Remembering what we said in a previous lesson concerning the explanation of a word or phrase holding good through the whole discourse, we now note the field of verse 44 and the explanation in verse 33. "The field is the world." The word "treasure" takes us back to Ex. xix. 5, Israel's peculiar treasure. See also Ps. cxlv. 4; Mal. iii. 17, margin. Thus the law, the prophets and the Psalms enlighten us concerning the treasure. Since Israel's rejection of Christ and her consequent scattering among all nations she has been a treasure to no one but Himself, but to Him she is as the apple of His eye, and till sun, moon and stars cease to shine she shall not cease to be a nation before Him (Zech. ii. 8; Jer. xxxi. 35-37). Who can this be who gives up all that He has in order to buy the field? No one can buy the field but He who has the right to redeem it, the true Boaz, the mighty man of wealth, who as evidence that He had purchased or redeemed the field wore the crown of thorns.

The story of the pearl is virtually the same except that the pearl is the church, as the treasure is Israel. Pearls come from the sea, and in Rev. xvii. 15, it is written, "The waters which thou sawest are peoples and multitudes and nations and tongues." In Eph. v. 27, the completed church is spoken of as a glorious church, not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing, but holy and without blemish. In these words one cannot help seeing a perfect pearl without spot or blemish or wrinkle. In this case, as in that of the treasure, the man gave up all that he had to purchase it. Salvation, or eternal life, or the Son of God, in whom we have redemption, is not obtained in that way, but as the free gift of God (Rom. iii. 24; v. 1). Neither money nor good works can obtain eternal life. The cost of our redemption fell wholly upon Jesus Christ, and by His perfect life and death in our stead and resurrection from the dead He has provided eternal redemption for all who will receive Him. We are saved, however, at so great a price in order to become His disciples, and the cost of being a disciple falls wholly upon the believer, for it is written, "Whosoever he be of you that forsakes not all that he hath cannot be my disciple" (Luke xiv. 33). Returning to the treasure and the pearl which He obtains by giving up all that He had, "for ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ that, though He was rich, yet for your sakes He became poor that ye through His poverty might be rich" (II Cor. viii. 9). It is certainly true that whatever of value or preciousness there will be in Israel or the church it will be because of union with Him in whom alone is any preciousness. Another phase of truth should be considered in connection with Israel and the church, and that is that Abraham was promised a seed as the stars of heaven and as the dust of the earth or the sand of the sea, a heavenly and an earthly seed. Here also we see that church, the heavenly, and Israel, the earthly, seed. When these have been fully gathered we shall have the kingdom ruled over by a righteous king and with Him the church, His body, and Israel, His earthly people, all righteous.

The seventh parable, the net gathering of every kind, may refer to this whole age or specially to the end of the age, but the great truth seems to be the separation of good and bad. The Lord Jesus did not believe in all who said that they believed on Him (John ii. 23-25), and we cannot tell who are true and who are not, but the day will declare it. It is ours to gather all we can. How fearful are the words about the severing, the furnace of fire, the wailing and gnashing of teeth (verses 42, 49, 50; xxii. 13; xxiv. 51; xxv. 30, 41), and if the language is figurative what must the reality be? It is most plainly taught in Scripture that for the righteous there is an eternity of bliss and for the wicked who reject Christ and dig in their sins an eternity of woe. How important His question, "Have ye understood all these things?" (51). They were very ready with their "Yea, Lord," but it was not long before He had to say: "Are ye also yet without understanding? Do not ye yet understand?" (xv. 16, 17). It is through faith we understand (Heb. xi. 3), and the one thing required of us and that we can do is to have faith in God. Some consider verse 52 as an eighth parable. If we are wells of living water we will ever give forth for the benefit of others the words of life, the old truths unfolded in the New Testament and the New Testament truths opening up the old.

The Worth of the Kingdom. Matt. xxi:44-53.

Golden Text—Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you. Matt. vi:23.

(1.) Verse 44—What is the value in money of personal religion?

(2.) To what pains and expense ought a person be willing to go if necessary in order to obtain the salvation of his soul?

(3.) From the standpoint of pure statecraft what is Christianity worth to this country?

(4.) What are the chief characteristics of the "joy" experienced when a person obtains personal salvation?

(5.) Would it be right or wrong, and why, if a man should accidentally discover rich treasure in another man's field and hide that fact from the owner and then buy the field for what it was worth minus the treasure?

(6.) Verses 45-46—What would you say in the last analysis is the chief quest in every man's life?

(7.) What are the "goodly pearls" in life which all men should seek?

(8.) What would you say is the pearl of great price, and how would you describe it?

(9.) What is the best way to seek the pearl of great price?

(10.) Verses 47-48—Can you describe the nature of a "drag-net"?

(11.) What would you say is the significance of this drag-net parable as applied to Christianity?

(12.) Who are the fishermen supposed in this parable?

(13.) What does the "sea" represent?

(14.) How many classes of people from a moral standpoint does the gospel story attract and hold under its influence?

(15.) Why would you say, or not, that many members of our churches answer to the description of "bad" fish?

(16.) Verses 49-50—What is your idea of the process which God will take at the end of the world to "sever the wicked from the just?"

(17.) What are the reasons for believing that Jesus did not mean a literal "furnace of fire"?

(18.) If Jesus did not mean that the wicked will be cast into a literal "furnace of fire" what did he mean?

(19.) Does the "wailing and gnashing of teeth" mentioned here indicate rage and disappointment or pain? Give your reasons.

(20.) Verses 51-53—How may we understand the real meaning of Jesus from his highly figurative style of speech? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Sample Bottle Often Proves Beneficial

Some time ago I was afflicted with bladder and kidney trouble and was unable to obtain any relief from other medicines so sent for a sample bottle of your Swamp-Root. I received so much benefit from this small bottle that I purchased a large bottle from the druggist. I continued the use of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root until I regarded myself as cured and am now in very good health. I recommended it to a neighbor who has used it with the same results.

I regard your remedy, Swamp-Root, as a preparation that will do all you claim for it.

Whenever a body of citizens appear before the council regarding any municipal question they are entitled not only to courteous treatment, but to a fair hearing. The councilmen should remember that they are not public dictators, but are public servants and as such it is their duty to serve the people in the best manner. They should always be glad and willing to hear any discussion upon any subject in which the people are interested and to conduct the hearing in a dignified and businesslike manner.

Indian Baskets the Best.

Members of the Passamaquoddy Indian tribe at Eastport, Me., are beginning to market the results of their winter's basket-making labor. One variety of basket which they make receives a ready sale at the sardine factories. It is very heavy and especially adapted to the handling of herring in those plants. Attempts have been made to produce this basket by machinery, but without success. The machine-made article has not the lasting quality of that made by the Indians. The supply of ash for basket making is secured in Aroostook county.

ELABORATE BAGS FOR BRIDGE

All Kinds of Ornamentation Are Sanc-tioned for These Up-to-Date Accessories.

The wrist bag which the bridge expert carries is becoming a very splendid affair of silk or satin, embroidered with floss or closely encrusted with tiny beads of crystal, pearl or metal. Not infrequently it is of heavy lace, lined with a silk material or with a metallic gauze. One model is a very long and slender affair of lilac appliqued with genuine Irish lace motifs. About its mouth is a narrow edging of the lace and below that is a pocket through which runs a cord of mauve silk and silver threads.

SMART COSTUME

Lingerie Gowns Popular.

As the season advances and outdoor functions become more general, some delightful lingerie dresses will be seen; for in the warmer weather there is always a great wave in favor of white. It will not be unrevealed purity, however, for the note of color will occur in sunshade, shoe and waist belt, while in the silk or satin frock the lingerie collar and the flounce will give it the simple touch and charm which is so characteristic of the artistic creations of the moment.

Hats of real panama with contrasting underbrims are the most appropriate and delightful for wear with dainty muslin frocks, and they are quite smart enough for most functions.

For the Sick Room.

To sweeten the air of a sick room for a patient who is tired of the usual perfumes, burn a few drops of oil of sandalwood on a shovel. Eau de Cologne dropped on a hot shovel also gives a most agreeable odor. If perfumes are not at hand an admirable substitute may be found in camphor, a piece of which may be burned by the application of a hot poker. The strong smell of the camphor quickly disappears, taking with it all the close and disagreeable odors of the sick room.

Summer Luncheon Sets.

For summer luncheon tables especially there are cream crash centerpiece, napkin and doily sets embroidered in black and blue, black and red, or black and green. The pieces are all scalloped.

Materials required for the dress: $\frac{1}{2}$ yards 46 inches wide, $1\frac{1}{2}$ yards satin 22 inches wide.

Health & Beauty Hints

By Katherine Morton

Summer is a splendid season for fostering a child's good looks. Great Nature stands with her arms wide for the little ones, inviting healthful play in the open air, when muscles are hardened, finicky appetites improved and inches and pounds taken on. But the mother must be very careful about food on the hotter days—be careful, indeed, all summer long—and the daily grooming of the little body must be thorough and regular.

Sponge the little body down very gently with tepid water if the child seems too tired for a tub bath, and repeat the operation several times during the hottest days. A teaspoonful of ammoniated toilet water will make this sponging doubly refreshing, but if this is used be careful not to have the water get into the youngster's eyes. When the little head feels burning hot, and the hair is soaked with perspiration and is sour as well, a shampoo would not be amiss, and it would doubtless be relished. The extra combing the small head gets in this time would be an added comfort—you know how pleasant a combing is to your own tired head—and when it is time to dress the youngster for the afternoon pay more attention to finding the garments that will keep it cool than to putting on those for mere looks. High necks and long sleeves are a crime in hot weather, and so, for that matter, are stockings—to the wee children who are allowed the bare-necked, bare-armed and bare-legged conditions of dress.

A delicate nursery powder, with the fragrance that appeals to the senses, is an added refreshment after the bath, and it is absolutely needed for the children who chafe easily, or are given to little eruptions from heat or indigestion. Violet talcum, prepared for nursery use, is about as good a thing as can be had for general purposes, but if the child is suffering from summer rash this preparation would be more cooling and healing:

Elder-flower water 7 ounces
Glycerin 1 ounce
Borax $\frac{1}{2}$ dram

Mix these together and apply both to the body and to the hair at night and morning and during the day.

Now what is the chief cause of the summer rash, and the reason for much of the peevishness, and a good deal of the light physical pain a growing child has in summer? Improper food, you may be sure, food as heavy as that in winter, overeating, too many cold drinks, overripe or underripe fruit. On a hot day—one of the dog day kind—indiscretion in food is especially dangerous, particularly if a heavy meal is eaten when the child comes in overheated.

A child's food up to eight years of age—and often later—needs always to be the light, easily digested sort.

Milk is the most natural food for childhood, and very often it is refused by the youngsters because it is poor or badly kept. Tepid milk is a nauseous mess on a hot day, but milk must not be drunk too cold either, particularly when children are warm and tired and are inclined to take their beverages at a gulp. If the household has that very precious blessing a cellar, the best way to keep milk is to put it in carefully cleansed and sunned bottles, which can be covered, and then set them on the cellar floor. The coolness of this underground chamber will keep milk at just the right temperature, and also preserve more of its delicious quality than if it were put on the ice.

Tea, coffee, chocolate, sandwiches, wafers, nuts and bonbons, salad, sherbet of ice cream are the usual refreshments served in the dining room. Two or more ladies, generally intimate friends of the hostess, "pour," one or two waiters assisting in the service.

Social Forms and Entertainments

Polite Notes.

Will you kindly advise the custom concerning letters of condolence and congratulation? Should letters be sent only to friends out of town, or may they be used between friends in the same city? Are letters of condolence better than a call? ANXIOUS.

Letters of condolence are always proper, no matter whether to a person living out of town or in one's home city. A card with the word "sympathy" or "to inquire" left at the house of mourning is always good form, for, of course, only the nearest and dearest friends see a bereaved family; but afterward they look at the cards and letters and deeply appreciate all who have thought of them in their sorrow. Letters of congratulation are always acceptable, enhancing whatever the good fortune may be by sharing with one's friends. The good book says "rejoice with those who do rejoice and weep with those who mourn," or words to that effect, and it is a pretty good maxim to follow.

Giving a Breakfast.

Would you kindly give a few suggestions as to the menu and entertainment suitable for a breakfast for about 25 young ladies? This is for no special occasion, but I wish something a little different.

SUBSCRIBER.

For so many guests you will probably seat them at small tables. It would be pretty to have a different color of candle and flowers at each table. Serve first a chilled fruit mixture, chicken and mushroom patties, Saratoga potatoes, tiny hot, buttered biscuit, olives, salted nuts, radishes, Asparagus salad or tomatoes stuffed with shrimps.

A strawberry mousse, with small cakes or a tutti-frutti ice cream makes an acceptable finish. Grape juice, iced tea or coffee may be the choice of beverages, with a cordial.

Afterward have a reading or a short musical programme. Perhaps you have some friend who is clever enough to entertain with personal reminiscences of some unique or interesting experience in travel at home or abroad.

Etiquette at a Reception.

Will you kindly inform me the proper thing to do at a reception? Should I leave my calling card? What should be served? S. A. B.

Greet your hostess, be served to refreshments, leave your card and take your departure, is about the prescribed formula for an afternoon reception.

Tea, coffee, chocolate, sandwiches, wafers, nuts and bonbons, salad, sherbet of ice cream are the usual refreshments served in the dining room. Two or more ladies, generally intimate friends of the hostess, "pour," one or two waiters assisting in the service.

Birthday Stones.

Some months ago I saw a list of stones allotted to the 12 months in the year; perhaps it was in your column, from which I derive much benefit. Will you kindly print this list?

OLD READER.

The birth stones are: January, garnet; February, amethyst; March, bloodstone; April, diamond; May, emerald; June, moss agate; July, ruby; August, sardonyx; September, sapphire; October, opal; November, topaz; December, turquoise.

MADAME MERRI.

Large or Small Hat Is a Question for the Future

Some experts of fashions say that still larger hats will be worn, while others disagree and say that the small turban shaped hats will be in the majority. The large hat in the photograph is of Panama trimmed with a bow of black velvet and a large pink rose in the front. The small bonnet is of Milan straw and trimmed with rose and rose leaf decorations.

Dainty Designs for Simple Dress and Long, Ample Coat

Cotton Dress.—This is a good style for cottons, such as gingham, zephyr and foulards, as it would be easy to wash. Green cotton foulard sprigged with a darker shade is chosen for it.

The skirt is made with a panel down front, with the sides lying over it in wrapped seams. The bodice has also the panel front and is trimmed with a collar and strappings of plain material; for the yoke and under-sleeves muslin embroidery is used.

Materials required: $5\frac{1}{2}$ yards cotton foulard 28 inches wide, $\frac{1}{2}$ yard plain, $\frac{1}{4}$ yard embroidery 18 inches wide.

Coat for Day or Evening Wear.—This coat might well be used for day or evening wear, as it is a style that would lend itself to all occasions; our model is of natural colored Shantung and is high-waisted and plainly set to the bodice, which has slight fullness at waist. For the collar and cuffs striped black and white foulard is used.

Materials required: 5 yards Shantung 33 inches wide, $\frac{3}{4}$ yard foulard 40 inches wide.

ORNAMENT FOR THE TABLE

EASY TO MAKE SMART TIES

Arrangement of Flowers, Without Which the Dinner Is Sure to Seem Incomplete.

The tiniest garden can be made to furnish flowers for cutting all through the summer.

If flowers must be used more than once, it takes little time to have a separate decoration for each meal.

The freshness of sweet peas, nasturtiums, pansies, snapdragons, marigolds and poppies makes up for their lack of rarity.

At breakfast keep the scheme simple; some people will not use flowers at this meal, but a few fresh blooms in a slender vase are sure to look attractive.

Dinner decoration should have thought put into it, and the lady of the flowers should bear in mind the family tastes and anniversaries.

The amateur florist often laments the short life of some of her treasures. Poppies, for instance, must be put on the table just when the meal is ready, if they are to be a success at all.

A good scheme is to fill vases with water and take them into the garden, putting each poppy in as it is picked. Treated in this way, poppies keep several days and much more artistic arrangement is the result.

Few things are more depressing than fading flowers. A handful of wild carrot leaves, freshly gathered, is infinitely better than a florist's elaborate creation which has seen better days.

There is a passing fad for flowers arranged after the crowded posy fashion in which we have been trimming our hats and gowns, but the woman who really loves flowers will give them more room and a more natural setting, and content herself with time tried combinations, such as purple pansies with forget-me-nots, pink roses or phlox with delicate lavender tones of sweet peas, green ferns with a few white flowers, or the reddish-brown marigolds and pale yellow poppies.

White Satin Mannish Shirts.

The new models most in demand for midsummer use are the satin mannish shirts, says the Dry Goods Economist. These are very smart, especially the styles with Robespierre collar and having crystal buttons down the center front. The long shirt sleeves are joined to an extended shoulder line, in many cases finished off with a small satin cord.

Embroidered Dots.

Black or a color is introduced effectively in some very new white lingerie waistbands that are tucked all over in clusters and that have sailor collars and cuffs embroidered with dots, the dots the color of the crystal buttons. The waists are uncommonly smart.

New Leather Belts.

Inch-wide patent leather belts in black, pink coral or light blue are cut over their white linings and piped with the white. The buckles are brass or leather covered.

Cretonne Hats.

Little poke and country bonnets have had a great success when made in fine silky straws which have a droll incongruity with their simplicity. They are trimmed with tiny flowers and broderie Anglaise. Some pretty hats of this variety are, however, made up in Valenciennes lace, while others, again, are covered with cretonne and flowered muslin. In short, there is in children's millinery the same range of choice as there is in our own.

Juice Taken Out.

Householders who have trouble with the juice of rhubarb pies running out will find that if the rhubarb is chopped in a chopping bowl and the juice strained off before putting into the pie this trouble will be overcome.

Modish Jabot.

Graceful lace jabots give the finishing touch to the smartest tailored rigs.

THE BORNIN' OF ANOTHER PARTY

"Progressives" Get a Running Start in Indiana.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC CONVENTION

The Naming of a Ticket and the Adoption of a Platform of Principles on Which to Make the Campaign in This State Gave Indiana "Bull Moose" a Day of Fervid Oratory and a Display of Real Enthusiasm.

THE TICKET.

For Governor—Albert J. Beveridge.
For Lieutenant Governor—Frederick Landis of Logansport.
For Secretary of State—Lawson H. Mace, Scottsburg.
For Auditor of State—Harvey G. Cushman, Washington.
For Attorney General—Clifford Jackson, Huntington.
For Treasurer of State—Burdell B. Baker, Monticello.
For State Statistician—Thad M. Moore of Madison.
For Superintendent of Public Instruction—Charles E. Spaulding, Winamac.
For Reporter of the Supreme Court—Frank W. Miller, Clinton.
For Supreme Court Judges—Fourth district, William A. Bond, Richmond; Third district, J. B. Wilson, Bloomington.
For Appellate Court Judges—Minor F. Tate, Bloomfield.

Indianapolis, Aug. 2.—The Indiana "Progressive" party, made up of the followers of Theodore Roosevelt, amid scenes of enthusiasm sometimes rising to a pitch of real fervor, put the above ticket in the field, adopted the figure of a bull moose as their party emblem, adopted a platform of "progressive" principles, named delegates-at-large to the national convention of the Roosevelt party at Chicago next week, named electors-at-large, and elected Edwin M. Lee, chairman of the Republican state committee in the last campaign, as chairman of the state committee of the new party, and adjourned with many expressions of zealous attachment to the new cause. The "bornin'" of the new party occupied the time between 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon and 3:45 in the afternoon.

The Tomlinson hall convention was called to order by Edwin M. Lee, who got a rousing hand when he addressed the delegates as "Fellow Bull Moosees." The term which has been applied to the Roosevelt movement in derision on account of the colonel's frequent reference to himself as feeling as fit as a bull moose, seems to have come to stay, in Indiana, at least, for a part of the day's doings was the adoption of the figure of the bull moose as the party emblem. The two great moose heads which adorned the hall, together with a monster portrait of Colonel Roosevelt and lesser portraits of Washington, Lincoln, and Albert J. Beveridge, received much admiring attention throughout the day.

A Business-Like Body.

The hall was filled to the topmost gallery. It was an alert, attentive, orderly, apparently determined crowd that seemed to be there for a real purpose, and the manner in which it set about the object of its call was a lesson for future state conventions.

There was a tenseness in the attitude of those 1,441 delegates that is not often noted in such gatherings. This was a matter of general remark among the many mere onlookers.

"We are assembled here today, not at the behest of any boss," said Mr. Lee. "This is the birth of a new party. It will not take two or four years for the people to put the stamp of approval on this party. We will win in November." And the crowd agreed with him.

Following the invocation by the Rev. Albert Hurlstone, and the reading of the official call by Secretary Harvey B. Stout of Indianapolis, Mr. Lee introduced Frederick Landis of Logansport, who in a speech abounding in characteristic epigrams, aroused the delegates to the highest point of party enthusiasm. One pleasing interruption followed the speaker's declaration in favor of woman's suffrage that made a big hit with the audience. It was the unexpected sound of a woman's voice in an Indiana state convention.

Dr. Hannah Graham of Indianapolis, one of the state's leading suffragists, who, with a considerable company of women, occupied a front position on the stage, arose and in a few well-directed remarks, thanked the speaker and the party for the indorsement of the suffrage cause. It was something different in convention routine. Then when Mr. Landis for the first time brought in the name of President Taft there was something different again.

For the first time in Indiana convention crowds the English "boo" was employed instead of the familiar hiss as a mark of disapproval. So spontaneous were these boos, so concerted was the contemptuous expression, so altogether unusual in an Indiana audience, that it left but one conclusion and that was that the delegates had been coached for the act. It was an ominous, horrid sound, far from pleasing.

Moving Pictures of Taft Notification Ceremony.

A WHITE HOUSE INNOVATION

For the First Time Moving Picture Operators Invaded White House on Occasion of Ceremonies Marking the President's Formal Notification of His Nomination—Taft Bitterly Denounces Wreckers of Party.

Washington, Aug. 2.—President Taft delivered an address outlining the issues of the campaign in formally accepting the nomination of the Chicago convention.

He declared that the preservation of the constitution and the maintenance of an independent judiciary constitute the supreme issue in the contest. The president asserted that both Roosevelt and Wilson are headed straight toward socialism, and he invited Republicans and Democrats alike to join in combatting the menace offered by their candidates.

The president did not mention Roosevelt by name, but repeatedly referred to him and his followers as "the former Republicans who have left their party."

The president was notified of his nomination before about 500 Republican leaders who had gathered at the White House from all parts of the country. The ceremonies, which were in the east room of the White House, were as informal as possible. The president's speech and that of Senator Root, who delivered the notification address, were spoken to the accompaniment of a battery of moving picture machines. This was the first time moving picture machines ever have been admitted to a White House function.

The president was at times dramatic in his denunciation of those who are trying to wreck the Republican party. Many of his points were driven home with an emphasis unusual for him, and he was enthusiastically applauded. The handclapping was prolonged when the president declared that "hostility to the judiciary and the measures to take away its power and independence constitute the chief definite policy of those reformers whose control the Republican party escaped at Chicago and the Democratic party yielded at Baltimore."

Of the fifty-two places on the notification committee, there were half a dozen vacancies, due to resignations, and only about thirty of the number serving were able to be present. Chairman Hilles of the national committee managed to get away from headquarters long enough to come to the meeting. A large number of other national committeemen were present and most of the Republican senators and representatives in congress. The president was attended by all his cabinet officers except Secretary Meyer of the navy. Mrs. Taft was accompanied by several women friends.

After the ceremonies the president and Mrs. Taft received all the guests in the blue room, and then a buffet luncheon was served.

Auditors Will Talk It Over.

Indianapolis, Aug. 2.—Proposed legislation for the better conduct of county business is likely to be one of the chief topics at the meeting of the County Auditors' association of Indiana, which will convene here Aug. 21 and 22.

After a violent dispute over a beautiful woman with whom both were in love, Count Francesco Appignanesi shot and fatally wounded his brother, Enrico, at Cingoli, near Ancona, Italy.

Governor Wilson will be notified formally that he was nominated for the presidency by the Democrats at Baltimore, on the front veranda of the "Little White House" next Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The first national newspaper conference, which closed its sessions at Madison, Wis., with a big banquet, adopted resolutions requesting the University of Wisconsin to "call another conference to be held there next summer."

Two airships, one driven by James Stainhauser of Cleveland and the other by William Heina of Pittsburgh, were in collision in midair at the New York aviation field. The machines were wrecked, but neither aviator was dangerously hurt.

MORE TROUBLE IN NICARAGUA

The Rebellious Menas Up to His Old Tricks.

HEADS ANOTHER REVOLUTION

Former Minister of War Who Entered into Covenant to Keep Peace Has Broken His Exile, Apparently Feeling That It Is About Time to Have Another "Election" Down There—May Stir Up All Central America.

Washington, Aug. 2.—To lead the revolution he inaugurated last Monday, General Menas, the rebellious former minister of war of Nicaragua, has bolted the compromise agreement made with President Diaz and United States Minister Weitzel and has fled from Managua. Dispatches to the state department and the navy department indicate that the trouble is spreading to towns on the shores of Lake Managua and southward to the town of Rivas, near the Costa Rican border. Members of the Liberal, or old Zelaya, party are responding to Menas's call to arms.

The taking of Rivas is regarded as serious, inasmuch as in Costa Rica is the exile Arias, who, it is feared, will take the opportunity to cross into Nicaragua and join the Menas revolution.

According to Commander Terhune of the United States gunboat Annapolis, the government is suffering from lack of munitions of war. There is much treachery, Commander Terhune states. The Annapolis is now on her way from San Juan del Sur to Corinto. It is likely that she will return to San Juan soon to keep open the cable connections at that point.

Minister Weitzel reports quiet prevails once more in Managua, the capital. The police, headed by Salvador Menas, brother of General Menas, had followed the general, but a provisional police force has been organized and protection of Americans is assured. The government claims to have full control of the entire country except the department of Mazayas.

It has been known for some time that plots against the peace of Central America have been brewing in New Orleans and New York, the cities to which "emigrados politicos" flock. Not only Nicaragua, but Honduras, Salvador and Venezuela have been understood to be menaced by the plans of the insurrection plotters in this country. In some quarters Guatemala is accused of once more attempting to exercise a sinister influence over one or two of her weaker neighbors.

It is now feared that the unheralded outbreak in Nicaragua will become the signal for the lighting of the fires all along the line and that similar outbreaks will be fomented in the neighboring republics.

ALLEGED CONSPIRACY

Lawyer Included in Indictments in the Funk Case.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 2.—The jury heard from Mrs. Daisy Ulrich Opie Grace how her young husband, Eugene Grace, scion of an old Georgia family, received the bullet wound that paralyzed him in their Atlanta home on the 5th of last March. Her first words on the stand were: "Gentlemen, I am innocent. I did not shoot my husband, and he knows it," indicating with a nod of the head toward her husband, who lay on the stretcher near the witness stand. Mrs. Grace then declared her husband had accidentally shot himself during a struggle with her over the possession of a revolver with which he had threatened her, and the quarrel was over another woman on whom Mrs. Grace alleged her husband had been spending her money.

Mrs. Grace told one of the most remarkable stories ever heard in a courtroom. With flushed face and hands trembling she spoke in a clear but low voice, declaring that her husband, whom she is accused of shooting, had tried to kill her several times. Once, she said, he tried to drown her; again, he stabbed her, and finally, the day he was shot, he seized a pistol and in the struggle that followed he wounded himself.

Mrs. Grace's statement was very long, making about a newspaper page.

Odds of 20 to 1 are offered, with no takers, that the jury will acquit Mrs. Grace in a few minutes. The case will go to the jury this afternoon.
